

REAP Grants

Funding for your Projects

Considering purchasing or replacing any of the below equipment?

» Lighting

» Refrigeration

» HVAC

» Insulation

» Solar Energy Equipment

» Grain Dryer

» Ventilation

» Irrigation

» Anaerobic Digester

» Wind Energy Equipment

Grants and Loans are Available

The Rural Energy for America Program (REAP), is a USDA funding program that provides money to businesses and farmers for projects that improve energy efficiency or use renewable energy. The application deadline is around April 2015.

$50,000
grants are possible!

Find out if your project is eligible

» Click to find your local USDA office: IA, WI, MN, Others

» Call our REAP specialist, Matt Hein, at 605.695.8582

Who is Michaels Energy?

Since 1984, Michaels Energy has provided energy audits for over 2200 facilities including farming operations, ethanol producers, schools, hospitals, and more. We have worked with USDA Rural Energy for America (REAP) projects since 2005. Our certified AgEMP Technical Service Provider, Matthew Hein, is a licensed Professional Engineer in IA and SD, holds a Masters degree in Engineering from South Dakota State University, and has four years of experience in agricultural energy efficiency.